

Innovative Partnerships Relevant To Learners With Apprenticeship & Skilled Trades Goals

APPRENTICESHIP & SKILLED TRADES FACTSHEET ●●●

Apprenticeship and the skilled trades are an important goal path for many adult learners, and the province's Literacy and Basic Skills (LBS) programs provide valuable support to help prospective apprentices develop the skills they need to succeed. To learn more about this important issue, Community Literacy of Ontario (CLO) conducted research, wrote a report, and created three accompanying factsheets.

CLO's Apprenticeship and the Skilled Trades Factsheets cover the following topics:

1. Challenges
2. Strategies
3. Resources

INTRODUCTION

One common theme in conversations with Literacy and Basic Skills educators who support prospective apprentices is their commitment to finding resources that can support their learners' goals.

Programs shared a wealth of in-house activities and curricula, and dozens of books and online resources they rely on. In Factsheet #3, we share some of the most recommended resources and websites used to support learners with goals related to the apprenticeship and the skilled trades. All resources listed in this factsheet are easily available and accessible online.

SKILLED TRADES ONTARIO

Skilled Trades Ontario is a critically important website for anyone interested in apprenticeship and the skilled trades. Skilled Trades Ontario is a new Crown agency which replaced the Ontario College of Trades. It operates at arms-length from the Ministry of Labour, Immigration, Training and Skills Development and is responsible for skilled trades certification in Ontario.

Skills Trades Ontario shares helpful information on a wide variety of topics, including Trades Information, Compulsory and Non Compulsory Trades, Starting and Finishing an Apprenticeship, Certification, Exams, Trades Equivalency Assessments, and more.
